

Reuters Blogs

Felix Salmon

November 30th, 2009

Hertz caves

Good news on the corporate-bully front: Hertz, which was behaving abominably towards Audit Integrity, has utterly caved, dropping its libel suit on the grounds that it was “not worth pursuing now”. Or, one assumes, ever again. A small but important victory for freedom of speech in the financial markets.

<http://blogs.reuters.com/felix-salmon/2009/11/30/hertz-caves/>